SICKLERVILLE, NJ - June 11, 2017 - Tony Ransom announces the publication of Against the Clock, and other Stories, an Ebook comprised of three short stories that deal with human emotion and how individuals interact when put in a situation of unrest. The anthology explores how humans interact rather than how people think. The Ebook is available at Smashwords.com for free.

The first of the three stories "Against the Clock," is a realistic tale that follows a preteen Max Turner during a late-night struggle to make it by bike to his best friend Charlie's house located ten miles away. Using both humor and gullibility, Max strives to make it to before he gets locked out.

"The Secret Within," showcases the strained relationship of George and Lisa when a strange present is left on their doorstep in the middle of the night. With their marriage on the rocks, another challenge is thrust upon them in this tale of belligerence, leading both to wonder how strong their love for each other truly is.

The final fantasy action/adventure story is "Seconds of War," in this impassioned story of bloodlust, Astrony is a boy with the ability to control time, in a world similar to the Middle Ages. Tensions run high as his base is invaded by the opposing army, and Voltex, the enemy general, declares his malicious intent.

Tony Ransom is a game writer who is earning a Bachelor's in Fine Arts degree for Creative Writing for Entertainment at Full Sail University. He is credited for having a short story titled, The Secret Within, published in Down in the Dirt magazine's June 2017 issue. He writes dramatic and realistic fiction, and likes to think of himself as a normal guy with a next level mind. He can be found at www.linkedin.com/in/antonio-ransom-24b3b5142/
